Phoenix was born and raised on New Zealand’s stunning North Island, where she earned her B.A. from the University of Waikato before completing post-graduate studies in Film & Television at the University of Auckland. She is currently finishing her M.A. in Christian Apologetics at Southern Evangelical Seminary.

A dynamic and widely loved communicator, Phoenix has worked alongside Frank Turek on the CrossExamined platform and is a frequent guest on many of the most influential Christian apologetics channels today.

What makes Phoenix stand out—and why audiences consistently ask her back—is her rare ability to engage the most challenging cultural issues of our time with crystal-clear reasoning, authentic compassion, and a winsome sense of humor.

She connects, she disarms, and she equips.

Whether unpacking the pull of Marxism, navigating the complexities of gender and transgender ideology, or helping Christians think Biblically about Artificial Intelligence, Phoenix brings truth and grace to the frontlines of today’s cultural battles.
